Grade Boundaries

Only once all exam papers in the country have been marked are grade boundaries set by senior examiners and assessment experts. It's not until after all the marking has been completed that it's possible to see how difficult students found the paper (for example, compared to previous years) and so take this into account when setting the boundaries. This means that a student who performed at a certain level should get the same grade regardless of which year they sat the exam, but it doesn't mean they will score the same mark.

Resits

Parents can choose for a pupil to resit an exam in year 11 and a science from year 9 in year 10.

Be aware that there is not room in the timetable for more teaching in that subject (apart from revision sessions near the exam).

The cost of entering the resit exam rests with the parents.

Letters can be collected at the end.
